

Looking & Learning.

The first steps to reading.

We have put together some images to help support your baby's visual development, cuddle up and spend time looking at each other and the images.

As your child's eyes are developing and learning to focus on the world around them our simple black and white images, bold colours, simple lines and bold patterns are easier for them to see.

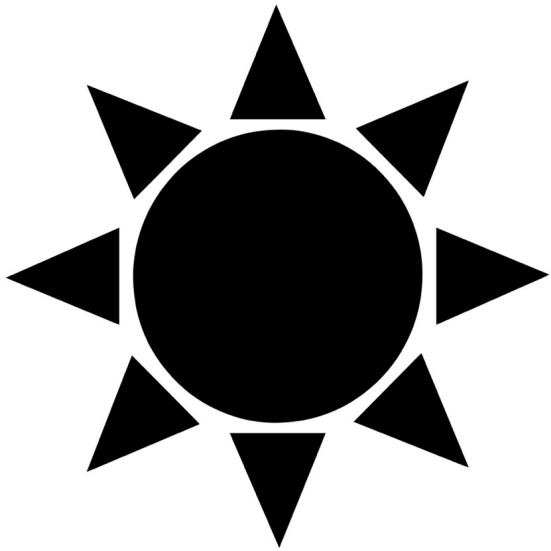

Cut up the images to make flash cards, laminate or back them on card for durability or turn them into a baby mobile using string and a coat hanger.

Tag us in your first reading journey with us @bindependentot or visit www.b-independent.org to join a group.

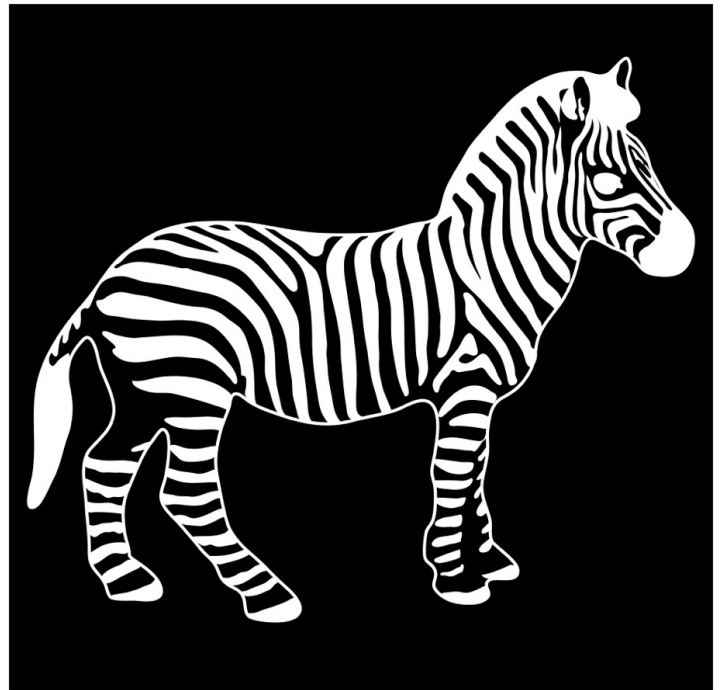

With compliments
